THE CLAYWOOD CELLAR A Collection of Thoughtfully Curated Wines

Our Philosophy Great wine begins long before it reaches the glass.

At Claywood, we believe the most memorable wines begin with healthy soils, responsible farming, and people who value craftsmanship over convenience.

Much like the ingredients Chef Holden sources from local farmers and producers throughout Appalachia, every wine in our cellar has been selected for its authenticity, sense of place, and ability to elevate the dining experience.
Rather than relying on mass-produced labels designed for consistency, we seek wines from independent growers who embrace sustainable farming, organic practices, biodynamic principles, regenerative agriculture, and low-intervention winemaking whenever possible.

These wines aren't manipulated to taste the same every vintage.

WEATHER • SOIL • PEOPLE • TIME

Some producers ferment with native yeasts. Others farm by hand.

PRODUCING A FEW THOUSAND CASES EACH YEAR

Together, they represent a shared philosophy.

RESPECT THE VINEYARD • RESPECT THE VINTAGE • RESPECT THE TABLE

Understanding Our Cellar Seasonal • Sustainable • Intentional

SUSTAINABLE FARMING | Respecting the vineyard while preserving it for future generations.

ORGANIC PRACTICES | Farming without synthetic herbicides or pesticides.

LOW INTERVENTION | Minimal additions. Maximum expression.

NATIVE FERMENTATION | Allowing naturally occurring yeasts to tell the vineyard's story.

VINTAGE MATTERS | Wine should never taste the same every year.
